

Paper Chains: Summer Camp

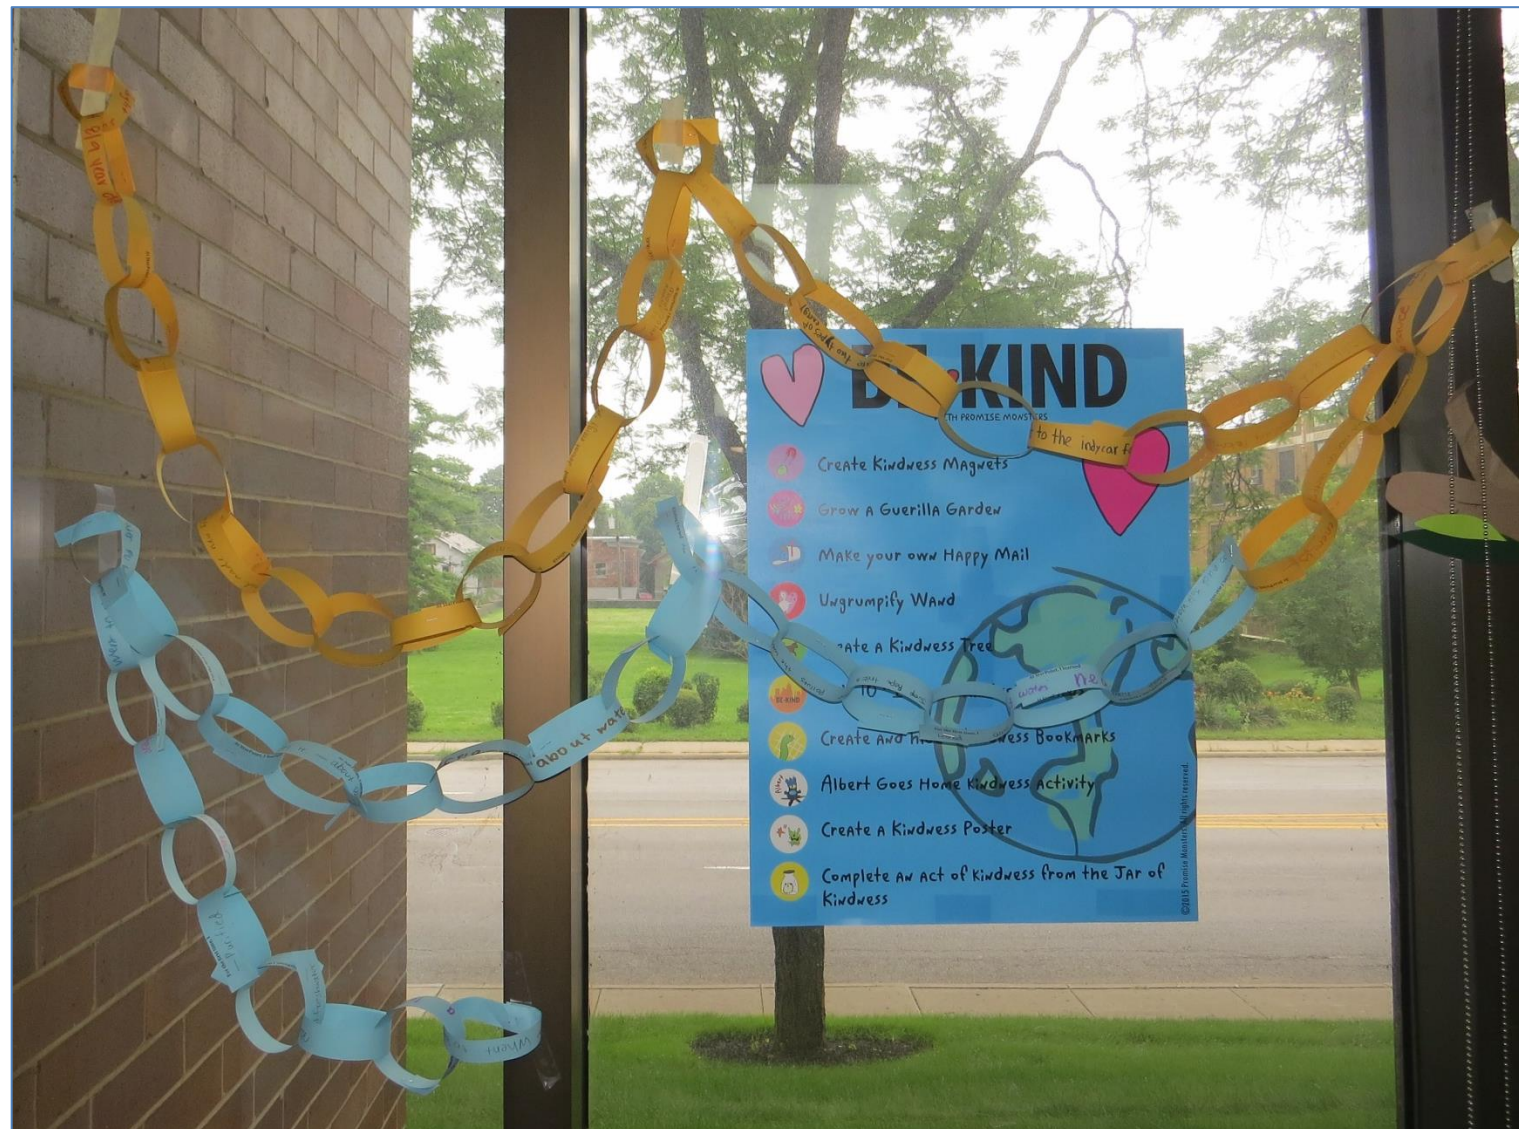

Question:

What types of learning and novel experiences do campers self-report?

Finding:

58% of responses were directly related to weekly learning outcomes; campers have new experiences both within the museum and on field trips.

n=256

I learned most of the world's water isn't drinkable

For the first time I programmed a Lego robot

I learned asparagus grows on a bush

For the first time I want to be a costume designer