

INTERACTIVITY SMALL MUSEUM FINANCIAL AID PROGRAM
Sponsored by Jack Rouse Associates

Submission deadline: January 12, 2018

The InterActivity Small Museums Financial Aid Program will provide selected professionals who work at small museums with complimentary registration to InterActivity 2018: Open Source Play, Sharing the Creative Code, May 15–18, in Raleigh, NC, as well as a ticket to the host museum evening event. The goal of the program is to offset professional development expenses for museum staff at open children's museums with annual budgets under $500,000. By doing so, ACM wishes to cultivate staff members at small museums for long-term careers in the children's museum field. Travel to InterActivity, food, and hotel accommodations are the responsibility of the selected recipient or their employer institution.

Eligibility:

Individuals may apply for financial aid if they meet the following criteria:

- Works at an open international or U.S. children's museums with annual income under USD $500,000;
- Is an ACM member or works at an ACM member institution;
- Has been employed at their present institution full-time for at least one year;
- Demonstrates a desire to advance their career in the children's museum field;
- Has not attended InterActivity within the past two (2) years (2016 or 2017).

Please note: applicants who are not awarded financial aid and wish to attend InterActivity will be able to register at the Early Bird rate.
