Making Music in the Museum:
Creative Hands-On Music Exhibits

Before we start, some ideas to chew on. We will collect these after the session to post to the ACM website.

What are some of the fears you have about making a music exhibit in a children's museum? You can number them in importance if you wish.

- Too loud
- Chaos and cacophony
- Things breaking all the time
- Having to tune instruments
- Disruptive
- Technology
- Annoying
- Upkeep
- Not right for a children's museum
- Not the right space
- Staffing issues
- Too hard for kids
- I don't know where to start
- Other

Putting those fears aside, if you were to make a music exhibit what would be some of its key features?

- Calming
- Fun
- Foster shared experience
- Exploration
- Memorable
- Groovy
- Sounds “Good”
- Other
- Spur creativity
- Inspire children (or adults) to pick up an instrument
- Make return visitors
- Educational
- Invite local musicians for residencies
- Learn about different cultures
Making Music in the Museum: Creative Hands-On Music Exhibits

Before we start, some ideas to chew on. We will collect these after the session to post to the ACM website.

What are some of the fears you have about making a music exhibit in a children’s museum? You can number them in importance if you wish.

1. Too loud
2. Chaos and cacophony
3. Things breaking all the time
4. Having to tune instruments
5. Disruptive
6. Technology
7. Annoying

3. Upkeep
4. Not right for a children’s museum
5. Not the right space
6. Staffing issues
7. Too hard for kids
8. I don’t know where to start
9. Other

Putting those fears aside, if you were to make a music exhibit what would be some of its key features?

1. Calming
2. Fun
3. Foster shared experience
4. Exploration
5. Memorable
6. Groovy
7. Sounds “Good”
8. Other

2. Spur creativity
3. Inspire children (or adults) to pick up an instrument
4. Make return visitors
5. Educational
6. Invite local musicians for residencies
7. Learn about different cultures
Making Music in the Museum:
Creative Hands-On Music Exhibits

Before we start, some ideas to chew on. We will collect these after the session to post to the ACM website.

What are some of the fears you have about making a music exhibit in a children’s museum? You can number them in importance if you wish.

- Too loud - Particularly the Cymbals...
- Chaos and cacophony
- Things breaking all the time
- Having to tune instruments
- Disruptive
- Technology
- Annoying
- Upkeep
- Not right for a children's museum
- Not the right space
- Staffing issues
- Too hard for kids
- I don’t know where to start
- Other

Putting those fears aside, if you were to make a music exhibit what would be some of its key features?

- Calming
- Fun
- Foster shared experience
- Exploration
- Memorable
- Groovy
- Sounds “Good”
- Other
- Spur creativity
- Inspire children (or adults) to pick up an instrument
- Make return visitors
- Educational
- Invite local musicians for residencies
- Learn about different cultures

Awesome Session!!