Co-Curating, Co-Creating: Developing Sustaining Relationships through an Advisory Council Worksheet

Community:
Who do you serve?

Is there a core audience you know you are currently under serving?

Collaboration:
Think of a project, even if it is a dream collaboration, that would serve the needs of your community:

Pre-Planning “Shaping Outcomes:”
Co-Curating, Co-Creating: Developing Sustaining Relationships through an Advisory Council Worksheet

What might you learn from an Advisory experience about their needs?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

How will this be supported by your project development?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

How do you want participants to grow?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

What do you want them to learn and understand?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

Developing Feedback Cycle:

What kinds of values should contributing members have? (Knowledge, professional experience,
Co-Curating, Co-Creating: Developing Sustaining Relationships through an Advisory Council Worksheet

shared commitment, investment in institutions, etc.)

Who are your “Communities of Practice” people?
“A community of practice is a group of people who share a concern or a passion for something they do, and learn how to do it better as they interact regularly.” Etienne and Beverly Wenger-Trayner (2015)