Risk Factors for Children

Risk Factors, are “characteristics at the biological, psychological, family, community, or cultural level that precede and are associated with a higher likelihood of negative outcomes.

Children with an incarcerated parent are 6 times more likely to become incarcerated themselves.
Children's museums and correctional facilities’ visiting programs have a shared goal: “keep families intact”.

Studies show that under certain circumstances, contact visits between a parent and child can lessen the effects of parental incarceration on a child.

For parents, benefits include a lower rate of recidivism and a more successful re-entry after release.

Who are we?

- Location: Upper West Side, New York, NY
- Annual Visitation: 350,000 per year
- Founded in: 1973
- Size: 38,000 square ft
- Annual Budget: ~6 million
- Staffing #s: 27 FT, 39PT = 66 total
Separation during incarceration

When children are too young to understand why they are separated from an incarcerated parent, feelings of abandonment and rejection are often magnified (Flynn 2014).

Children who maintain contact with their parent during incarceration exhibit fewer disruptive and anxious behaviors (Sack and Seidler 1978; Stanton 1980) and overall improved outcomes (Edin, Nelson, and Paranal 2004; Klein, Bartholomew, and Hibbert 2002; La Vigne et al. 2005).

Maintaining contact lowers recidivism rates and is linked to 10 other positive outcomes associated with successful reentry (Edin et al. 2004; Sampson and Laub 1993; Uggen, Manza, and Behrens 2004).

Programming & Partnership

All plans developed in collaboration with the Department of Corrections

○ Programming
  ■ We host 18 arts and play programs at CMOM that reunite families and focus on family connections and bonding.

○ To improve the visitation experience at Rikers, we are installing Learning Hubs (mini exhibits/interactives) in Rikers Visitation Rooms
  ■ Decrease the stress of family visits
  ■ Based on CMOM exhibits designed to promote early learning, imaginative play, and family bonding.
Designing for Family Bonding

- Art activities that families can take home

  "I love the take home projects. They make this experience feel like more than a memory, it is something to look forward to in the end and at home."

- Daily Routines

  "I loved that my son read a book to me. We used to do that together all the time before, it was amazing to have it again"

- Safe Space for Free Choice

  "I'll never forget this feeling of seeing my kids play freely. Nobody felt locked down here. I felt so comfortable here."
Program Assessment
All in collaboration with the DOC

1. Post-program debrief with the parents in custody
2. Post-program phone survey with custodial caregivers
3. DOC working on reporting the behavior data of the people in custody.
What we found…

93% of custodial caregivers said that they felt more connected as a family after their visit.

“They are more focused than ever on getting out. They are more motivated and want to do the right thing everyday.” - Officer Langer

“After the visit, the boys seem more calm. They are back to themselves. My daughter misses her Dad more though now, and she’s been crying more. She gets on the phone with him frequently just to say "I love you I love you I love you." - Caitlin

“My son is sad when saying goodbye to Dad now. He knows his dad now, he recognizes him from far away. His behavior with his dad is so different now, even just after that one visit.” - Marie

“Over the past few days after the visit, my son is a lot more relaxed and happier after seeing his mom. This is such a positive thing for the kids” - Frederick ○ Considerations…

  ■ Color schemes and characters
    ● Warm and welcoming
  ■ Specific visitation room policies
    ● Physical contact, free movement, number of people, etc
  ■ Materials, shapes, electrical requirements
    ● Taking safety/security to a whole new level

About Us

- Founded in 2011
- Located in Topeka, the capital city of Kansas, in historic Gage Park
- 95,000 annual visitors
- 15,000 square feet + 4.5 acres outdoors
- 1 in 3 admissions are free or reduced
Play Free Prison Program

- The Discovery Center contacted Topeka Correctional Facility (TCF), the only women's prison in the state of Kansas, in early 2018 to create opportunities for women to bond with their children at the museum. Inspired by CMOM, we adopted many of their applicable practices.

- Play Free Invites children and their incarcerated mothers to the museum for a full day of play, learning, and bonding.

- Play Free works with the Women’s Activity Learning Center program at the prison. Women who participate reside in the minimum security part of TCF.

- All staff received training on incarceration and trauma-based interventions when the program was created.
"I genuinely felt humanized in this program," wrote one mother, "It was a breath of fresh air. My children and I had so much fun and we appreciate having the privilege."
A Play Free Day: Welcome

- Play Free takes place on days the museum is closed to the public.
- Mothers arrive at the museum first.
- Dignity for the mothers is our guide.
- Custodial caregivers bring children from as far as 8 hours away to attend.
- Families have the opportunity to catch up and transition at the child’s pace, then custodial caregivers leave.
- Moms and children start with a shared breakfast and open play.
A Play Free Day: The Day

• The full facility, indoors and outdoors, is available to Play Free participants from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

• Child-led play is the priority and staff is careful not to over-plan the day.

• Participants usually have the opportunity to work together on bonding art experiences if they choose. (Tracing hugs, love boxes, heart prints etc)

• A photographer takes photos of each family.

• Families share lunch and typically a special dessert (ice cream sundaes, cookies they get to decorate, etc.)
Play Free: In Her Words
A Play Free Day: Wrap-Up

- Custodial caregivers return at 3 p.m. and have another chance to talk and transition.

- A copy of the family photo is printed for each mom and each child to take with them.

- Mother’s give the children Discovery to Go kits for the trip home.

- Children leave before moms are transported back to TCF. Caregivers are given surveys to complete when they pick up the children.

- After the children leave, moms participate in yoga and breathing exercise.

- Moms then complete surveys about their experience at the museum (if time allows) or back at TCF.
Play Free: Critical Pieces

• Play Free is a full day at the museum. The amount of time and developmentally-appropriate setting allows a wide range of child-led activities that facilitate bonding, including two shared meals.

• Play Free is just for moms and children. Custodial caregivers leave for the day, giving the moms a completely unique opportunity to parent.

• The photos are incredibly important to both moms and kids. We ensure each child gets their own photo, and obtained special permission for the women to take a photo back to TCF with them.

• Play Free does not have uniformed, armed guards on site.

• Play Free is directed by the participants themselves.
Play Free Highlights

- 16 full day Play Free sessions at the museum
- When in-person visits were not allowed due to Covid-19, we mailed play kits to moms and kids to facilitate playing together during Zoom visits.
- Play Free has served more than 1,000 total women and children.
- The Lt. Governor of Kansas, Secretary of Corrections, and reporters from CNN along with multiple local media outlets have attended a Play Free session.

My family and I would like to thank the KCDC and all donors for helping us create such amazing memories for my children and me. We have visited the Discovery Center three times now, and my boys always asking to go back. Due to circumstances, I have seen my kids since.
Play Free: Next Steps

• The program is continuously guided by participant feedback. Surveys have prompted us to make changes to meals, schedule, and activities.

• Juvenile Justice: New young parent program

• Men’s Prisons: New program serving families in community-based settings

• Visiting room renovations in the men’s prisons throughout the state

• Birthday learning kits and virtual visits for maximum custody parents modeled after successful Covid virtual visit programming.

DOC Team and HoCM Team working collaboratively on children’s area of the visit room remodel at:

- Clallam Bay Corrections Center (Closed Custody)
- Stafford Creek Corrections Center (Medium Custody)
- Washington Corrections Center for Women (Women’s Prison)
Barriers

- Safety and Security
  - Contraband
  - Obstruction of camera
- Funding
- Resources
- Disruption during remodel

BENEFITS

- Strengthen family relationships - reducing the likelihood of child becoming a statistic
- Reduces intergenerational incarceration
- Helps child succeed in school
- Motivate and encourage the incarcerated parent
- More likely to succeed upon release

YOU BET!!!!!

~ Zig Ziglar
How to approach/engage a prison near you!

Have a clear understanding of the impact on children with an incarcerated parent.

Get involved in family engagement activities.
   Start small - build the relationship!

Have an open mind - understand that something that appears very simple and safe to you may be denied or restricted.

Be prepared for the naysayers - have your “WHY” responses ready!

Be committed.
TOGETHER.....We make a difference!
